

June 2009

Internet Reportage

12 Scientists

“Bacteria don’t stop at frontiers and neither should scientists”

Professor Dr Seyed E. Hasnain, microbiologist and Vice-Chancellor of the University of Hyderabad

International health research

Professor Seyed Hasnain from India has been invited to work in Germany for several months as recipient of a Humboldt Research Award. The microbiologist is conducting research into bacterial pathogens at the Robert Koch Institute in Berlin and at the University of Würzburg.